GIFT OF
DIVISION OF EXTENSION

Since this is the first year Culpeper County High School has had a school seal for literary use, the staff of the 1951 COLONNADE thought it worthwhile to explain its meaning. The vocational symbol exemplifies the well-developed vocational field open to the students of CHS. This emblem drawn upon a scroll, which represents scholarship, shows that these two go hand in hand. Another active part of high school life, athletics, is denoted by the winged foot, a sign of physical prowess and good sportsmanship. Citizenship, indicated by a torch, is placed behind and above the first three symbols; for training good citizens is the true purpose of education. Printed above the seal is the Latin motto, Carpe diem, translated "Grasp the opportunity." These words have a real meaning for those students who take their work seriously. Keith McNeer designed the seal.

CHS Trains Student For World Citizenship

The 1951 COLONNADE presents as its theme, Citizenship. How broad a meaning the word has today! It implies citizenship in a community; citizenship in a country; yes, even citizenship in the world. What duties and privileges that citizenship entails!

Recognizing each student as a citizen, the COLONNADE presents him as such—a citizen of yesterday as presented on the front inside cover; a citizen of tomorrow as pictured on the back inside cover; a citizen of today as portrayed on the pages within.

His work with teachers, classmates, and members of the community, his participation in various school activities, his development under the school's enlarged curriculum—all aid the CHS student in becoming a cosmopolitan, well-rounded citizen.

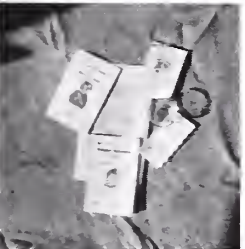

That these enlightened citizens may help to establish "One World, built on love and peace" is the fervent wish of the members of the COLONNADE staff!

Good Citizenship Qualities Win Combs Dedication

To one who has endeared himself as counselor and as friend to all by his genuine interest in each student, and who, as a true citizen, has given himself untiringly for the welfare of the school and community, the staff affectionately and gratefully dedicates the 1951 COLONNADE to Principal James H. Combs.

School Offers Three Courses Of Study

The curriculum of Culpeper County High School is composed of those subjects which are needed in the three courses offered by the school; namely, the general, the commercial, and the college preparatory. The general course prepares a student for a large number of vocations, whereas the commercial course specializes in the secretarial field. Students preparing to enter college upon graduation take the college preparatory course.

On the following pages are given some of the departments in CHS. Courses not explained in this section are journalism, art, music, distributive education, diversified occupations, consumer education, and physical education. The gymnasium provides excellent facilities for athletics and social functions. The library furnishes information through its wide variety of books, magazines, films, and other resources.

Four English Credits Required For Graduation

All students are required to take four years of English for graduation. Each English class provides opportunities for reading, writing, speaking, and listening.

All of these activities are based on problems set up in a course of study for each year of high school. The problems for the first two years are of a personal nature while those of the last two years are based on American and English literature, respectively.

Throughout the English curriculum the correct use of the spoken and written word is stressed to prepare students for the future.

Junior Citizens Study Social Problems

Students may take world history, a study of man from ancient time to the present, during any one of the last four years of high school. When they become juniors, they are required to take United States history. This traces the development of the United States from its first settlement to its present position as a great world power. The senior social studies class, which is also required, devotes the first semester to a study of the United States government and the second to social problems of youth.

Wide Field Open To Mathematics Enthusiasts

The Mathematics Department offers many choices in the realm of its field. Two years of mathematics are required of all students before graduation. For those taking the general and business courses, general and business mathematics are offered. Basic mathematics in the twelfth year drills on fundamentals. For those preparing for college, the department presents two years of algebra, a year of plane geometry, and a half year each of solid geometry and trigonometry.

Scientists Experiment In Modern Laboratory

The Science Department, headed by Miss Virginia Lewis, is of the highest quality. General science is required of every student, and biology, chemistry, and physics are offered to any student desiring them.

The purpose of this department is to present to all those taking science a true picture of the universe, conditions contributing to the students' environment, and factors which all can use to live a richer life.

One Ancient, One Modern Language Taught

To prepare the student for life in this modern world, two years of Spanish and three years of Latin are offered. To the student who selects these courses goes the best foundation and knowledge of principles of these languages. Both the first and second year Spanish clubs have organized and are carrying out many projects. The second year Latin class has organized an Olympic Council. From the activities of these two clubs, the students are shown more about the daily life of people in the countries represented by these languages.

Commercial Students Use Modern Equipment

The Commercial Department offers many opportunities for students to prepare for positions in the business world. From the day a student begins the business course in the freshman year, he is taught an understanding of business procedures and how to prepare for a position not only as a stenographer or typist, but as a bookkeeper or small business manager. There are also many clerical jobs for which he can equip himself. The courses offered in the Commercial Department are taken by students pursuing the college preparatory course as well as those who are preparing to enter the business world. These students receive a general knowledge of business to facilitate their work in college and afterwards.

Tomorrow's Homemakers Prepare For Future

The Home Economics Department is one of the beauty spots of CHS as well as a center of learning. Girls who take home economics are taught sewing, cooking, house-keeping, and all the other basic principles that are necessary for a good homemaker to know. The wish of Mrs. Thomas Sweet, head of this department, is to turn out girls capable of bearing the name "good homemakers of America."

Watching the film, "Sharing Work at Home," are Mrs. Thomas Sweet's Home Ec II class: Priscilla Gingrich, Dorothy Corbin, Ethel Jenkins, Mary Frazier, Betty Richards, Annie Dedson, and Thelda Sutphin.

Working with a drill press in the shop building are Lawrence Jenkins and Kenneth Taylor who are in the agriculture shop class.

The purpose of the Vocational Agriculture Department is to better prepare those who desire to make farming their vocation and build their future on the soil. Agriculture is most important because of the dependence of all living beings on the soil. The projects taught the boys by Mr. R. R. Tolbert and Mr. S. C. Aylor, teachers in the department, are numerous and worthy of strict attention because each is a goal toward their future.

Eighth Graders Begin High School Life

The eighth grade, as now organized, is an integral part of the high school and a prerequisite for any of the three courses offered in the last four years of high school. It was planned to help the pupil make the transition from elementary school to high school without loss of time and effort, to strengthen and extend the skills, to enable the pupil to explore his interests and abilities by studying short courses in art, agriculture, general business, industrial art, home economics, and music. In addition, the pupil has time to broaden his work in the next four years.

While Barbara Faulkner, Mary Cabbage, and Betty Cook take notes, Mr. Colie Rock instructs his eighth grade English Class on the use of nouns and pronouns.

A full year of study in English and social studies and one half year each of science and mathematics carry forward the Core Curriculum set up in the high school. The pupil adjusts himself to departmental work and learns a great deal more about himself.

The graduating class of 1951 is the first class which has enjoyed the advantages of the broadened program of studies made possible by the inauguration of the eighth grade program in 1946.

School Citizens Frequent School Scenes

1. The American flag, given by the VFW in 1949, is raised and lowered every school day unless the weather prohibits. In the picture, W. Tutwiler and J. Backe are in the process of raising the flag.

2. Each morning the front columns of Culpeper County High School bid welcome to the students who pass under their arch. At lunch time it shelters the students as they laugh and talk together, and as the 3:15 bell rings, the columns give their personal farewell to each student.

3. The shop building behind the high school building is the domicile of the agriculture and agriculture shop classes. Completely modern equipment makes it fun for the students to learn about farming and farm implements. The D. O. class also meets in this building.

4. The cafeteria, under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Wilson, serves an average of 320 students and teachers each day. Waiting in line as, left to right, Mrs. W. Thompson, Mrs. C. Wilson, and K. Jenkins serve are W. Pritt, M. Brown, V. Myers, L. Hitt. The federal government furnishes a number of articles of food, such as potatoes, turkeys, and canned fruit. The lunch for 20 cents includes a bottle of milk.

5. The candy booth gets active student patronage because it is run by the Girls' Monogram Club, which uses the proceeds for uniforms, etc., of the Girls' Athletic Association, and because it stocks the things CHSers want and need: candy, soft drinks, ice cream, and school supplies of paper and pencils. Eating and waiting in line for eats are, left to right, W. Settle, K. Taylor, C. Clatterbuck, A. Carroll, J. Hunt, G. Bledsoe, K. Gibbs.

6. The garage supplies gas and oil to the buses from all county schools and sees that they are safe for their lively cargo. In the picture a typical bus is shown behind two workers, Mr. A. Estes, left, and Mr. J. Thompson.

7. The football bleachers seating approximately 1300 people were filled to capacity at each football game even when the rain beat down upon the spectators and players. The P-TA sold hot dogs, candy, soft drinks, and coffee.

As the senior class of 1951 marched down the aisle for the last time, they carried with them happy memories of their high school days—memories beginning with the first and largest eighth grade class for many years.

It hardly seemed possible that the dignified seniors of today could have been the giggling creatures residing in the homerooms of Mrs. J. W. Ross and Misses Emily Carper, Jean DeShazo, and Martha Millard. Bayne Bentley led this large class. What a novelty it was for them to see a different teacher with the ringing of each bell! Now they felt as if they were an actual growing part of CHS.

The freshman year was ushered in with work, football games, and the beginnings of first romances. Headed by Everette Powell, the freshman family was stationed in Misses Rebecca Chappell's and Nancy Yates', Mrs. Gordon B. Witt's, and Mr. A. T. Howard's homerooms.

Time was moving fast and the freshmen became sophomores, led again by Everette Powell. This year Misses Rebecca Chappell, Virginia Lewis, and Martha Warriner watched over the mischievous group. The school was beginning to accept the ambitious class into its clubs and other activities.

As they walked into the new school, the realization of being juniors stole over those occupying the homerooms of Mrs. J. A. B. Davies, and Misses Gertrude Lewis and Laura Thornhill. David Guinn was elected president. The class was accepting responsibilities such as holding office and trying to make the Junior-Senior Prom one to be remembered. For some reason the idea that pleasure and work do not mix became very obvious.

Finally, the dignified seniors proudly took their places at the front of the student body. The shepherds of the fold were Miss Jean Ferguson, Mrs. William Barber, and Mr. Floyd Binns. For the last time the class elected its leaders. Robert Loy was honored with the presidency. For the last time they watched the basketball games and participated in other activities of the school. Plans for senior play and graduation made the seniors realize the end was near. Then came the prom. "Thank you, juniors; it was swell," said the seniors. Commencement was here, and the seniors proudly walked out of the doors of CHS with diplomas in their hands and tears in their eyes and realized they were no longer seniors but citizens of their world.

In order to control the vast school mechanism, there was set up the Student Cooperative Association within the school. Every student belonged to this organization and in order to further its work representatives from each homeroom and each school club formed the S. C. A. council.

The S. C. A. was a service organization, and the students took their problems to its meetings. If these problems concerned the whole student body, suggestions for action were recommended to the principal for approval.

The objectives were centered around school improvement, such as becoming a banner S. C. A., holding educational assembly programs, improving attendance as well as school spirit, participating in school government, and developing leadership. Students were given opportunities to engage in school recreation and to share in nation-wide drives such as the Red Cross. The council wished to instill within the pupils a desire to leave the school surroundings more beautiful and cleaner than they were in the beginning.

To aid the service there were seven committees formed of students each with a faculty adviser. The Health and Welfare Committee, headed by Barbara Sophia, assisted with clinics and supervised sanitation activities, packed Christmas baskets, provided for a first aid room, and promoted the five point drive. Chairman Robert Button and his Clean-Up Committee, with the help of a representative from each home room, kept the grounds free of paper and other trash. Under the direction of Margaret James, the Bulletin Board Committee maintained an attractive and informative display before the students at all times. The work was done by the different clubs and classes but supervised by the committee. To encourage saving, Ann Graves and her group sold bonds and stamps to the students each Wednesday at lunch time. The Recreation Committee greatly reduced the number of people in the halls by allowing participation in athletics at lunch time. Barry Hounshell was chairman of this group.

The Monitors' Committee was organized in order that students might be reminded of their manners in school and the school rules. Scott Harlow was made chairman of this committee by the vote of the student council, and the members were chosen by the executive committee. Monitors were picked from any class on the merits of ability to do a good job.

The Auditorium Committee was led by Robert Coates under the direction of Mr. A. T. Howard. The members of this organization were boys who acted as ushers during the assemblies. This committee kept the auditorium in order and led the seniors in.

The Student Council was also engaged in other activities. After each council meeting a written report was sent to each homeroom. The entire body voted on the best assembly program each semester, and the winner of this contest was given special recognition from the student council.

Thus, the Student Cooperative Association helped control the many activities and organizations of CHS for the school year 1950-51.

The 1950-51 COLONNADE Staff work got under way at its very first meeting. The advertising manager planned a campaign, and ad solicitors spent the morning of October 18 soliciting local business firms. There was no subscription campaign because the new activity ticket plan included the yearbook subscription, boosting the COLONNADE circulation from the usual 350 to 500. After a few false starts, due to bad weather, the individual and group pictures were taken. Several "fortunate" staff members were excused from classes on these days to assist the photographer.

Then, suddenly, came the news that the deadline was February 1, much earlier than had been expected! Staff members began collecting all the material that was still needed. The race with the deadline was on! The staff worked overtime, and the library became the busiest room in CHS. The members felt that the two and a half day sleet holiday was the greatest boon they received during the year. Thanks to it, the COLONNADE was off to press on time! Then the first draft came back, and proof readers had a deadline to meet. Finally, the staff sent its brainchild to the publishers for the last time and back came the 1951 COLONNADE!

Then there was time for the staff to catch its breath and to send representatives to SIPA in Lexington. In addition to the adviser and the 1951 editor, delegates were chosen from members of next year's staff, so that they might realize their responsibilities and know how to begin. Each delegate regarded the honor of being chosen a challenge to publish the best COLONNADE ever!

The staff had only one thought as the year closed—all the “sweat, toil, and tears” had not been in vain if the 1951 COLONNADE in years to come would keep alive the friendships, experiences, and spirit of the 1950-51 school year.

Pepergram Campaigns for School Citizenship

MARY MILLER ..... Editor-in-Chief
 MARY BUTTON ..... Business Manager
 MISS GERTRUDE D. LEWIS ..... Adviser

The staff of the Pepergram, Culpeper County High School's faithful newspaper, went scurrying about this year to get for its public "all the news that's fit for print." Ably led by Mary Miller, editor-in-chief, the budding journalists got an issue off to press every three weeks, including a special Christmas edition. Funds for this were made possible through the sale of ads and the money allotted to the Pepergram from the purchase of school activity tickets.

Each issue of the Pepergram had to its credit columns featuring styles, humor, sports, and school personalities. Student-interest news articles and athletic coverage were also taken care of by the eager-to-please staff. The Pepergram especially stressed good citizenship this year, and did much to promote appreciation of American democracy.

Every edition of the paper represented hours of digging up news, writing copy, re-writing copy, proof reading, drawing up the dummy, addressing the papers, and, at last, delivering them. As they did the final work on each issue, the staff members had two thoughts in mind: "Another issue completed!" "What's the deadline for the next one?"

The Pepergram entered the Virginia High School League, National Scholastic Press Association, and Southern Interscholastic Press Association contests. The outcomes of these proved that the work had not been in vain. Representatives attended the S.I.P.A. meeting in Lexington in the spring and were seen displaying dazzling smiles after receiving the Pepergram's journalistic rating.

All the minor trials and tribulations which the staff suffered during the year seemed to have paid off in the end. To be sure, there were times when the news was rather scarce and the ads came in a little slowly; but as June drew near, Culpeper High realized more and more how fortunate it was to have the Pepergram as its paper.

Tri-Hi-Y Places Emphasis on Clean Living

The girls of the 1950-51 Tri-Hi-Y Club inducted their new members and installed their officers at an impressive candlelight ceremony in October. The club then swung into their campaign for promoting desirable citizenship characteristics in the student body.

The highlight in the Tri-Hi-Y year was the District Conference at which both Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y were hosts. Mr. William E. Hansen, State Y.M.C.A. Executive Secretary, worked behind the scenes at the convention, but he was out front in planning for it when he was here earlier to conduct a workshop.

A little girl was adopted by the club and she received food baskets, clothes, and toys on all holidays.

In the fall, the girls formed a girls' football team, and after many bumps and bruises, felt experienced enough to sponsor an all-girl football game. Combined with the game was a Tri-Hi-Y sponsored Halloween parade. P.S. Tri-Hi-Y won over the Independents!

The much awaited Sweetheart Cotillion was given in February, thanks to the combined efforts of the Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y. Hearts were a-flutter; a king and queen were crowned; and sentimental memories were tucked away.

Other activities included attending church as a body every third Sunday, holding religious assemblies every other month, placing inspiring mottoes on bulletin boards, and sending representatives to Tri-Hi-Y gatherings. The club had a satisfying year, finding many new ways of doing their best to lead the way as good citizens.

Brown Elected President of District Hi-Y

The Hi-Y was the brother organization of the Tri-Hi-Y. Its first meeting was held in September when the boys discussed the aims and goals stated in the Hi-Y manual as well as the individual problems of the club.

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y were hosts at the district club meeting. An honor was bestowed on Culpeper when Estil Brown, of the CHS organization, was elected district president.

The boys of the club chose five Christian laymen of this community to serve as an advisory committee for the club. Then, in order to publicize the work of the Hi-Y club, they displayed the activities and aims of their organization on a bulletin board.

The Hi-Y presented a radio program over the local radio station on November 13, and also sponsored religious assemblies, one every two months. The boys were co-sponsors of the Sweetheart Cotillion in February and "outdid themselves trying to make it the best ever."

The club displayed posters over the gymnasium door, held a father-son banquet, and took charge of the World Day of Prayer program. At the end of the year, the boys decided that the work had been worth the effort, for they had fulfilled their aims.

Song Birds Compete in State Music Festival

With their sights set on a high rating in the State Music Festival, the members of the Glee Club with the help and ideas of their new director, Mr. Leslie Walden, practiced each Wednesday during activity period. On October 6, the senior warblers performed at the District H Teachers' meeting, singing "Praise For Peace."

The Music Department first appeared before the student body in an assembly, and later presented a Christmas Concert to the entire community. This concert featured selections by the Glee Club, the Junior Glee Club, the Choral Music Class, and the Band, which included Christmas music, popular songs, and others. Songs by the Glee Club were "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," from the cantata, "Sleepers Awake," by Bach, and "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear," words and music by Edwin H. Sears and Richard S. Willes, respectively. The proceeds from this concert were used for the purchasing of music for the choral groups and instruments for the band.

After the Christmas Concert there was no resting for the warblers. They continued to practice each Wednesday during activity period, for they determined to be prepared for the Music Festival at Fairfax in April. Finally, April came, bringing the big day for the Music Department. They packed up and went scooting off to Fairfax with all the best wishes for good luck from CHS. The songs which the Glee Club sang were the Scotch air, "Comin' Thro' The Rye," by Robert Burns, and the Bach selection, "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," which they had sung in the Christmas Concert.

Spring was definitely here, and it was time for the first annual Spring Concert. At this presentation the senior songbirds resang the Scotch air, "Comin' Thro' The Rye," and introduced to the audience, composed of parents, students, teachers, and other music lovers of the neighboring towns and villages, two new songs, "One World," and "Abram Brown."

The Glee Club finished the school year of '50-'51 by serenading the seniors and many people from Culpeper and the adjoining communities at the Baccalaureate Sermon and the 1951 Commencement Exercises.

Junior Songsters Reveal Hidden Talent

DAVID HAUGHT ..... President
 KATHLEEN YANCEY ..... Secretary-Treasurer
 EDITH CUNNINGHAM ..... Accompanist
 MR. LESLIE WALDEN ..... Director

The CHS Junior Glee Club was composed of students in the eighth and ninth grades. The main purpose of the club was to prepare its members for the more difficult work of the Glee Club.

The club's first important appearance was at the District H Teachers' meeting where they sang with the Glee Club. Their next activity was taking part in the Christmas Concert which was given by the Music Department. The club sang "The Bell Song" and "Silent Night" as its part in the program.

The songsters met every Monday in the school gymnasium. New songs were practiced, and Mr. Leslie Walden, director, explained desirable singing qualities.

The Junior Glee Club also took part in the Spring Concert. The concert was produced by the joint efforts of the entire Music Department. It was the last of their large productions for the year. However, their activities for the year were not yet over. They had an active part in the commencement ceremonies and they also sang at the annual sermon for the seniors.

The Junior Glee Club took part in several school assemblies during the year and advanced half its members to the senior club at the end of the school year.

Growing Band Acquires New Music Director

The 1950-51 band made its debut at an assembly program in the fall. Membership had increased, and new instruments were available. But the budding musicians decided they needed even more instruments in order to perform properly. Therefore, the band sponsored the annual magazine subscription campaign and purchased more equipment.

With these reinforcements they were able to attend all football games where they gave the team rousing support. The band even followed the team to Fredericksburg. They got their share of parades, too, once before the Glen Allen game and again at Christmas.

The band joined forces with the Music Department in presenting a concert at Christmas. In February, the members packed their instruments and traveled to the Alexandria Competition Festival. Cynthia Kent and Christopher Geest were chosen to represent the school in the All-State Band, which met in Arlington, February 11.

The CHS band initiated the Culpeper County March of Dimes campaign in January. Also they were featured in the Music Department's Spring Concert.

Made up of students who took band as a class and others who played in it as an activity, the band met every Thursday and prepared several assembly programs which were given throughout the year. Although the elements were sometimes against them and other obstacles arose, "the band played on."

Senior Dramatists Present "Haunted Chair"

ROY CARROLL .....	President

MRS. GORDON WITT .....	Adviser

Presenting "The Haunted Chair," a three act mystery-comedy, March 2, was the major activity of the year for the Dramatic Club. Mrs. Gordon Witt, club adviser, directed the play, and the cast of characters included the following: Liza Lee, Priscilla Gingrich; Lazy Lee, Francis Thompson; Nellie Kennedy, Maxine Weaver; Mrs. Kitty Burlove, Lois Doyle; Dr. Henry Stanley, Roy Carroll; Bob Stanley, William Clement; Mrs. Mabel Moore, Jeane Coffey; Inspector Gilhooley, William Gilbert; Jeffrey Fallen, Charles Crane; Peggy Moore, Constance Coiner; Lucille Page, Delores Aylor; and John Baxter, the mystery man, Eugene Wagner.

The play had been chosen by a selection committee and the club voted to accept it at the third meeting. The dramatists began practicing on February 6. It wasn't at all strange to walk down the halls of CHS and see two or three students in a group, gesturing and reeling off lines of the play.

Finally, after many rehearsals, the play went on. On the big night at 8:00 P.M., the curtain rose and "The Haunted Chair," with all its thrills, chills, and chuckles, was under way. After the last curtain call, the happy, tired "Romeos and Juliets" decided that it certainly had been worth the work. As they scraped off make-up, they were already dreaming of next year's production.

Young Players Render Drama Over Radio

Culpeper High School's 1950-51 Junior Dramatic Club was composed of students in the eighth and ninth grades. The club was organized primarily for the purpose of preparing the future "Hamlets" and "Ophelias" for the more advanced work of the senior organization.

The junior dramatists learned the basic principles of acting, and applied them by presenting a radio program in the late fall. The program was one of a series presented by the local radio station entitled "Know Your School." The club gave as its presentation an example of their work.

After the program, they analyzed their weak points and were once more on the job. The club decided to present a one act play in the early spring. Several plays were discussed by the group and they finally decided on a comedy. The play was presented after many exciting rehearsals, and the club felt that the work had not been in vain.

They were so well pleased that they even thought another play would be worth while. After it had been staged the junior dramatists believed that their rehearsing, memorizing, and time spent were indeed worthwhile. Their audiences thought they were well fit to graduate to the senior organization.

Library Club Stages "Battle of Titles"

 MISS MARY GEORGE BOLEN ..... Adviser

Books coming in! Books going out! But don't think books aren't taken care of when the Library Clubbers are about. The main task of the Library Club was, every period, every day, to man the circulation desk. The boys and girls in charge of the desk signed library permits, checked books in and out, and returned the books to their rightful places on the shelves. They also put call numbers on the books, kept records of the magazines, and prepared reports showing how many and what books each student checked out. The Library Club tried to persuade the student body to read more and better books by having a review of a new book printed in each issue of the Pepergram.

All of these activities kept the Library Club busy but not too busy for their social activities. They staged a "Battle of Titles" as an assembly program to celebrate Book Week. This program had as participants every member of the club and 35 other students. The club sponsored a radio program and advertised the facilities of the library and activities of the club in a colorful bulletin board display. The Library Club ended the school year with a social.

Future Business Leaders Train for Vocations

One business subject and sincere business interest were the requirements needed to become a member of the Future Business Leaders of America. For the first time F. B. L. A. became affiliated with the national organization of F. B. L. A. A representative of this organization came to Culpeper to install the new chapter in a noteworthy assembly program and to attend a recognition buffet supper in the school cafeteria. The club's bulletin boards were changed frequently to show every phase of business covered by the organization. A window was obtained in the town business district to draw the public's interest, by means of displays and notices. The club undertook in a business-like manner many money-making projects, such as the selling of candy and cookies at the lunch period in the school cafeteria.

To close a very successful year, the club decided to take a business trip to Washington, D. C., where it visited several business organizations, the F.B.I. building, and Strayer's College. Members of the F.B.L.A. felt that the year had sent them on the first lap of their journey to the business world.

The Future Homemakers of America, girls taking home economics classes, started their new year with a bang! They exhibited examples of their homemaking ability at the Culpeper County Farm Show and won a large number of awards in their division. The club displayed artistic talents in the windows of a local store as part of their celebration of National F. H. A. Week. The girls also heard outside guests speak to the club. They adopted a small girl for whom they provided a Thanksgiving basket, Christmas presents, and a new Easter outfit.

They proved they were reliable homemakers by entertaining their mothers at a social, and again when the boys of the F. F. A. club were invited to a joint meeting with the F. H. A. After discussing those problems and aims which the two clubs had in common, the girls served refreshments, much to the boys' delight.

All the F. H. A. activities were based on the girls' talents for homemaking. Their tools were mops, dustcloths, needles, thread, and mixing bowls. Because of their interest in the well-being of American homes, the members of the F. H. A. were looked upon as perfect "li'l housewives" to be.

F.F.A. Joins F.H.A. In Presenting Program

The Culpeper Chapter of the Future Farmers of America opened their school year by participating in the Culpeper County Farm Show. They exhibited their many individual projects as well as competing in the Tractor Operation Contest, which Leon Dodson won, on September 22.

The club then went to the Fredericksburg Fair where they entered a similar contest and helped construct the Federation float for the Fredericksburg parade.

The F. F. A. formed a forestry judging team which won first place in the federation contest and ranked third in the district competition held in October. The boys journeyed to Richmond where they attended the Atlantic Rural Exposition, watching cattle judging especially.

The initiation of "Green Hands" took place in the fall. All those being initiated wore green hands on their shirts for two days after which they were recognized as regular members.

In December, the F. F. A. was entertained by the F. H. A. at a joint meeting of the two clubs. The Reverend Franklin Cale spoke, and the clubs discussed pertinent subjects.

The boys formed track teams and competed in federation contests and attended the State F. F. A. Rally. The Future Farmers had an active year and fulfilled many of the F. F. A. aims.

Culpeper County High School's comparatively new Pan American clubs were composed of students taking the Spanish classes. There were junior and senior clubs for the first and second year classes, respectively.

"Los Burros Locos," the junior club, was a little bewildered at the beginning of the year. But after a while the club "caught on," and its members were soon acting as though they had been brought up in Spain. "Los Burros Locos" held a Spanish party for the second year club in December. The theme was even carried out so far as to have Spanish Bingo! The novices also learned Spanish songs and customs and planned another party for the spring.

"Los Diablos de Espana," the senior club, began its year with an air of confidence, for it had already had a previous year of Spanish. The club's first activity was a Spanish dinner given in the school cafeteria as a "welcome" for the first year students. In the spring, "Los Diablos de Espana" took a trip to see the Pan American Building in Washington. Both organizations worked on a radio program which they presented together, and visited the Home Economics Department where they learned room and furniture names in Spanish.

The "little Spaniards" persevered and, after some trying moments, became steeped in the knowledge of Spanish America.

Olympic Council is Debutante of Season

Hoping to further their knowledge of the classics, several students of the Latin II class suggested the formation of an Olympic Council. After receiving the approval of their Latin teacher, Miss Laura Thornhill, the "youthful Romans" drew up their constitution, elected officers, and made plans for the remainder of the year.

Membership in the Olympic Council was open to all students who had successfully completed one year of Latin. Meetings were held during class period on the first Friday of each month. After the business portion of each meeting, a program, planned by the aedile, was given. These programs were always connected with the background and life of the Greeks and Romans.

Again the "little Romans" got busy and made preparation for one of their main events, the celebration of the Saturnalia, an annual festival of Saturn held at Rome in mid-December. During this program Margaret Quaintance was crowned consul by the Romans. William Gilbert gave a report on Saturnalia as celebrated by the Romans. The Council sang Christmas carols and exchanged presents. After refreshments were served, a Christmas basket was packed. In order to raise money, the Latin Club sold cookies, candy, and holly in the school cafeteria. Tiny silver pins were bought by members of the club to signify that they belonged to the Junior Classical League.

This modern world demands courteous and efficient sales people in the stores. To carry out this purpose the Distributors' Club was formed. During the last school year, this club under the direction of Miss Mary Matta carried out many activities. The entire class, composed of nine members and led by Carolee Moscarella, went to the District Convention in Charlottesville, Virginia on February 12. A delegate, selected by the entire club and their adviser, Miss Matta, was sent to the State Convention in Richmond, Virginia on March 5, 6, and 7.

The Distributors' Club met every third Friday of the month during their second period class.

Putting into effect the slogan, "Display is D.E.," the club's bulletin board proved that the members had absorbed class instruction.

Each of the members was employed at a store in Culpeper where they worked each afternoon. All of the girls left CHS at 2:25 P.M. to go to their jobs except one who left at 12:30 P.M.

D.E. girls were placed in the following stores: Louise Brown, Violet Soutter, and Isabel Hawkins, Leggett's; Mildred Ruth Weaver, Frances Durham, May Grady, and Helen Dinkel, J. J. Newberry; Carolee Moscarella, Style Center; and Rena Kibler, Giant Food Store.

D.O. Club Members Attend Conference

Juniors and seniors have the opportunity of better preparing themselves for life after they graduate by joining the D. O. Club. Mr. Howard Newlon, sponsor of diversified occupations, endeavored throughout the year to expand each student's knowledge and understanding of common problems.

Members of this club during the past school year took an active part in diversified occupations by working in many stores around town. Some of these were Shaffer's Garage, Lewis Pharmacy, Glen's Fair Price Store, White Shop, School Shop, Hanback Electronics, A and P Store, and J. A. Swan, Jr., and Co.

During the '50-'51 term these members worked particularly on parliamentary procedure. Among their other activities the D. O. Club attended the annual state meeting on March 8 and 9 in Fredericksburg, Virginia; the entire club attending.

This was the first year that girls have taken part in diversified occupations. Positions for them were available in beauty parlor work, vocational personnel, and other women's work.

Safety Council Directs Bus Protection

DONALD HENSON	.....	President

MARGARET MYERS	.....	Secretary
MR. NEAL SHEDD	.....	Adviser

Culpeper High School's Safety Council selected students from each of the school busses to act as patrolmen. These council members had the responsibility of seeing that students riding on the busses were protected at all times. There were three boys stationed on Highway 229 at the point where CHS students crossed as they arrived at and left school. The boys saw that people crossed only when there was no traffic approaching.

The council held meetings once a month. At several they saw films on safety. At one Trooper Chester Moore spoke, especially stressing safety on the highway and giving methods of accident prevention and treatment.

In December the Safety Council sponsored the sale of embroidered hats. The school blossomed with hats of all colors and with "CHS," "Culpeper," and various names embroidered on them. The Safety Council also worked to win a safety flag for the school.

The council strove to make CHS a much safer place for the students. Thanks to their untiring efforts, the busses, too, became safer for everyone. By working for the protection of others the school's Safety Council gained everyone's respect.

4-H Organizes Eighth Grade Club

The 4-H Club initiated a new branch of its high school organization. An eighth grade 4-H club was established to bridge the gap between the grade and high school club. Much to the chagrin of the upper classmen, the members of the junior club far outnumbered those of the senior.

The older organization participated in the Culpeper County Farm Show where its members entered many classes and won a large number of ribbons. Monthly meetings were held, and plans were made to join in state projects. Girls taking homemaking projects competed in county contests. A livestock judging team was formed and they went on judging trips once a month.

Members had individual projects, the progress of which they noted in record books.

The junior club was not able to engage in a special group project because of lack of time. However, most of the members exhibited individual projects at the County Farm Show. Although they could not participate in group activities, each of the eighth grade members carried one or more projects of his own. The club was kept busy and was prepared to advance its members to the senior organization the next year.

Both clubs vowed to "make the best better" and fulfilled this vow by working in true 4-H tradition.

The Blue Devils opened their 1950 football season with a home game against Woodward

Prep of Washington, D. C. They were led by Captain Daniel Crane and Alternate Captain

J. H. Payne, two seniors who had played four years on the varsity squad. J. H. had the added experience of one year on the junior varsity squad. For the twelve seniors on the squad, 1950 was the last of high school play, but the team showed many promising underclassmen. Under the coaching of Mr. A. T. Howard, of Hampden-Sydney; Mr. Neal Shedd, of Arkansas State; and Mr. Thomas Young, of Randolph-Macon, the team won four games, lost four, and tied one.

RESUMÉ OF GAMES

Woodward Prep, Washington, D. C.: Culpeper gained the first touchdown in the second quarter, but the kick for the point was no good. Woodward pushed the ball across for two touchdowns in the second and third quarters. Both tries for the extra point were successful, raising the score to Woodward 14, Culpeper 6. There was no scoring in the fourth quarter.

Highland Springs: The Blue Devils met a stronger Highland Springs team on the opponents' field September 29. Throughout the game spectators were plagued by a steady drizzle of rain. Although many followed the team by bus and car, others took advantage of the radio broadcast from the field. While the Devils kept the Springers to a score of 12 to 7, they trailed all the way. Highland Springs' two tries for the extra point were unsuccessful. Culpeper converted the point after their only TD of the game.

Charles Town, West Virginia: In a game played on the home field the Culpeper boys overcame an early six point lead by Charles Town to win by the score of 45 to 6.

Orange: Culpeper, winning an easy victory over the Hornets, kept the near-by Orange team scoreless. That night, Friday the 13th, proved unlucky for Orange who lost 44 to 0.

Osbourne High, Manassas: Culpeper scored four touchdowns and gained one extra point for a total of 25 points in the first quarter as compared with Osbourne's only touchdown of the game, also scored in that quarter. Culpeper won by a score of 59 to 6.

James Monroe, Fredericksburg: Culpeper lost to a powerful opponent at the James Monroe High stadium. Culpeper elected to receive the kick and Hawkins took the ball. Both of Culpeper's TD's were taken over the line by Hawkins. The second culminated a series of runs and passes by Hawkins and Crane. The Jackets won, 41 to 14.

Falls Church: The Jaguars tied Culpeper, 12 to 12, in a game played on a muddy field and in pouring rain. During this game, William Bledsoe, back, received a head injury which kept him out of the last games.

Fairfax: The Blue Devils scored touchdowns in the middle of the first period and in the last 48 seconds of the second quarter. In the last half Culpeper went on to win, 41 to 12.

Glen Allen: Culpeper faced the Panthers for their last game of the season in traditional rivalry. The game, on the home field, ended in a disappointing 34 to 0. To the spectators, Glen Allen appeared to be the largest team which Culpeper had played this season.

May 18	Manassas	Woodberry	60	12

Track gradually became popular at Culpeper as was shown by the interest of students and the increasing number of boys who wished to participate. Daniel Crane and Ray Grady were chosen as captains for the spring of 1950. Mr. A. T. Howard coached the team.

A track was constructed around the exterior edge of the football field and each afternoon at the close of school found the boys, including the four returning lettermen, practicing hard to perfect their skill for the thirteen different events featured.

The first track meet of the season was against the Woodberry B Team on Friday, April 7, at Woodberry. The 880-yard relay which was won by Donald Henry, William Bledsoe, Daniel Crane, and Thomas Hawkins gave Culpeper the three point lead for a 58 to 55 score.

Led by captain Maude Perryman, the 1950 girls' softball team began the season with a victory over Madison at Madison. The team missed seven of last year's squad who were replaced by novices. Victories continued until Culpeper met Manassas High away from home and a series of consecutive wins which had been brought to 35 was broken. This was the first loss in two years.

Cheerleaders Urge Teams to Victory

CHARLES CRANE	Varsity Leader
NANCY JEFFRIES	Jayvee Leader
MRS. ELMER TRAINUM	Adviser

Fifteen peppy girls and one boy; these were CHS's cheerleaders who kept the school's morale on its toes throughout the year. A new flavor was added when the cheerleaders rode onto the field on the hood of a streamer-bedecked car to the tune of the school song. The cheerleaders and student body learned many new yells. The school spirit and pep were raised by rallies and a student parade through the streets of the town before the game with Glen Allen on the home field.

Charles Crane captained the varsity squad of nine members. This squad wore entirely white outfits with blue and gold letters and ribbons.

The eight junior varsity girls claimed as their captain Nancy Jeffries whose place was taken by Shirley Thompson when Nancy resigned. The junior varsity squad wore dark blue pleated skirts topped by white sweaters.

To the cheerleaders was given the additional task of decorating the goal posts in the colors of the home and visiting teams and marking the band and student sections in the bleachers. Both squads were under the direction of Mrs. Elmer Trainum.

Girls Run Store, For Athletic Association

JUANITA PAYNE .....	President
JUNE WOOD .....	Vice-President
MARY BAUMGARDNER .....	Secretary
CLAUDETTE BACKE .....	Treasurer
MRS. ELMER TRAINUM .....	Adviser

The Girls' Monogram Club was made up of girls who had won letters in basketball or softball, the two sports open to girls. They were steered on their course by President Juanita Payne.

They had as a major activity the running of the store which served as a supply and food shop for the students. The store was open before and after school and at the lunch period. Candy, drinks, ice cream, and various school supplies were sold. As an added benefit the store was open during the fifteen minute breaks given the students after the two-period mid-term exams. One-third of the profits from the store went to the Girls' Athletic Association to be used for supplies.

These girls sponsored intramural sports between classes and independent teams and acted as referees for these games as they had in past years. Intramural games served the purpose of encouraging healthful, sportsmanlike athletics among the high school girls. Among many other activities, the Girls' Monogram Club held a bake sale to help pay for needed uniforms.

This year the club acquired a new adviser, the girls' physical education instructor and coach of the girls' junior varsity basketball team, Mrs. Elmer Trainum, who came to Culpeper from James Monroe High School of Fredericksburg.

Boys' Club Holds Two-Day Initiation

DAVID GUINN ..... President

THOMAS HAWKINS ..... Treasurer

MR. A. T. HOWARD ..... Adviser

Early in the year the Boys' Monogram Club elected a senior, David Guinn, to lead them through the year as president. David was supported by the only other officer, Thomas Hawkins, treasurer. The activities of the club were directed by Mr. A. T. Howard, adviser.

It was an honor to belong to the Monogram Club because in order to become a member, a boy must have won a letter in one or more of the school sports such as football, basketball, baseball, or track. Thus the Monogram Club was made up of the best athletes in the school.

The Boys' Monogram initiated new members with vehemence. Paddles were the weapons of the day as gaping crowds watched what appeared to be strange and unusual specimens of humanity attired in almost anything one could name from overalls and tattered shirts to short skirts and unmatched shoes. Some even tried with dye to imitate the boy with the green hair.

The candidates were subject to two days of indignities climaxed by a stage show featuring comical dancing, music, and screams of horror—"Ow! Ouch!" Who will ever forget the rendition of "The Thing" and that fast boogie playing?

Herndon, third base; with Mr. H. Pote, referee, take to the field put down Louisa batters in fast order. 5. R. Deane scores a single against Manassas on April 18. 6. The jayvee football team engages Louisa in a fierce struggle on the home field in one of the afternoon games played on school time. 7. J. Hensley scores as J. Bolen goes to bat in a game with Louisa. In the background M. Perryman waits her turn while Mr. F. Binns and the rest of the team look on. 8. W. Bledsoe, showing good form, hustles around the track. 9. D. Crane, track star, makes a high pole vault, an event which returned to CHS field and track schedule in 1950 after a long period of absence.

From School Life Citizens Achieve Poise For Community Living

Colonnade Records Year of 1950-51

SEPTEMBER

5—This was the beginning of the end, as the doors of CHS opened again, and school officially began.

15—The annual S.C.A. installation saw Joseph Knakal, youngest president, receiving the gavel.

21—Amid many shrieks, the seniors' rings arrived. Did ya' ever see such flashing of hands?

22—The first football game was a sad defeat at the hands of Woodward Prep.

OCTOBER

2—With shouts of "Open your eyes! Close your mouth! 1-2-3!" the COLONNADE pictures were taken.

The first issue of the Pepergram, showing the capability of Editor Miller and the '50-'51 staff, came hot off the press.

3—The senior class came "to order," and Robert Loy was chosen to lead them the last, long mile.

The dumbbells began cramming as six weeks tests descended on them.

6—Students had vacation, but the District H teachers stayed hard at work.

The Blue Devils won their first victory, and the Charles Town football team returned to West Virginia battered 'n torn.

14-15—The weekend provided inspiration, information, and fun for District 4 Hi-Yers who met here.

17—Dinner was served Spanish style when the Spanish II class entertained the first year students in the cafeteria.

19—The COLONNADE ad staff took a half day off, and they went to town in more ways than one!

Mr. Combs got a new secretary, and CHS found a new friend in Mrs. Thomas Young.

23—The dreaded day arrived, and each slowly made his way homeward, report card in hand!

24—With the Reverend David Lewis as speaker and Ann Graves as the new presiding officer, the Tri-Hi-Y held their impressive induction service.

27—Those arch-rivals of CHS, the James Monroe Jackets, defeated the football team 41-14 in Fredericksburg.

31—Something new was added in the way of sports, and the weaker sex proved they weren't so weak when CHS' first girls' football teams—the Tri-Hi-Y and the Independents—met in a hard fight!

NOVEMBER

3—The junior class sponsored a Variety Show gleaning more funds for the Prom.

7—School bells rang for Mom and Pop when the S. C. A. and P-TA sponsored Parents'

Night.

25—Thanks were given to the Pilgrims for creating such a holiday, and Thanksgiving was celebrated in a big way!

DECEMBER

1—The social season began and, traditionally, the S. C. A. gave the first dance.

6—'Midst a "nightclubish" atmosphere the Spanish I entertained the Spanish II class and their guests in Cafe de CHS.

8—The Devils opened their basketball season by losing to Woodberry Forest.

15—The Music Department performed admirably at the Christmas Concert.

21—Eleven whole days for Christmas made the students happy!

JANUARY

19—Exams were greeted with moans and groans, and one began to realize what had not been absorbed.

The Cagers lost to James Monroe in a mighty close game.

FEBRUARY

1-3—Snow holiday gave rest to CHSers.

5—COLONNADE was put to bed by the staff, who then got some much needed rest themselves.

9—Students and basketball boys elected Alice Clark queen. She was crowned with much pomp and ceremony at the Falmouth game.

16—Everybody brought his valentine to the annual Sweetheart Cotillion, 'n a wonderful time was had by all at the first formal of the year!

MARCH

9—The Senior Dramatic Club presented a shining performance.

23-26—Easter vacation came at last to give welcome relief to the students.

APRIL

27-28—Eight budding journalists trouped to Lexington and attended the SIPA convention.

MAY

11—The seniors with their play made their last performance an outstanding one.

18—The Junior-Senior Prom proved to be a never-to-be-forgotten event.

25—Class Day—and high school for the seniors began to be a thing of the past.

30-31—Exams rolled around again.

31—Caps 'n gowns arrived and were donned by the now dignified seniors.

JUNE

1, 4—Exams continued but, for the most part, all pulled through.

3—Reverend David Lewis addressed the seniors in the annual Baccalaureate Sermon.

5—Graduation—and nothing more need be said!

1. Margaret Glenn, Kathleen Button. 2. Ellsworth Christensen. 3. Carroll Hunter, Dorothy Hoffman, Margaret Powell, Katherine Smith. 4. Hope Heflin, Grace Weible, Violet Soutter, Elizabeth Hunt. 5. Mr. Jack Griffin, Mr. William Johnson, and Mr. Kermit Wagner, Sr. 6. Bus Students.

Students Find Work, Fun in School Day

Pictures of the above students and their activities represent a typical day at CHS. In the morning before school two representative students stand before their lockers getting books out for the morning classes. After madly rushing around to get to class on time, the student finally finds serenity as the morning of four periods drags on.

Then comes lunch with the mad scramble to "beat the cafeteria line" which is for the most part—impossible. The fifteen-minute free period from 12:45 to 1 o'clock is time to spend as one pleases. There are music, dancing, and basketball offered in the gym; often one sees CHS' "dignified seniors" strolling along the hall, swapping stories of the day. Activity period provides time for the numerous club meetings, an intramural game each Tuesday, and the regular Friday assembly.

Pictured above are three of Culpeper's citizens explaining in assembly one phase of work done by the Rescue Squad. The two remaining classes of the afternoon end at 3:15; and after getting the necessary coats and books out of the lockers, the students ride the busses back to town and home.

Colvin

Crane

Hounshell

Kilby

Scholarship, service, loyalty, and dependability formed the basis upon which the faculty and seniors chose the four outstanding citizens of the '50-'51 school year. The coveted honor of being selected went to Martha Ann Colvin, Daniel Crane, Barryman Hounshell, and Jacquelyn Kilby.

Faculty, Seniors Select Outstanding Citizens

A glance at Martha Ann Colvin's list of extra-curricular activities and her scholastic record is sufficient to convince one that she was outstanding in both leadership and scholarship. Beginning with the presidency of the Junior Dramatic Club in her eighth grade year, Martha Ann has had leadership experience in each of the four ranking club offices. Two other presidencies, that of the Library Club and the Tri-Hi-Y, have been hers. Twice also she was class vice-president, in her freshman and sophomore years. She served as secretary of her junior class and treasurer of the S.C.A. Illustrating further her leadership ability, Martha Ann captained the girls' basketball team and was a member of the Monogram Club. Her pleasing personality and excellent scholastic record made her schoolmates proud of her.

Daniel Irving Crane will be long remembered as a leader in athletics and other phases of school life. The captain of an oft-victorious CHS football team, Danny was further honored when he was invited to join the Virginia squad for a proposed interstate football game to be played at Bluefield, West Virginia, in August. A member of the Monogram Club, basketball team, and twice the captain of the track team, Danny also met honor roll requirements. As president of the Hi-Y, he proved his leadership in character building activities, and his strong interest in other school affairs gave him a place in the S.C.A. and Library Club. Danny's willingness to work made him a loyal monitor, an able chairman of the ushers, and one of the top seniors.

As business manager of the Pepergram and president of the band, Paul Barryman Hounshell has demonstrated his outstanding executive ability. A more industrious senior than Barry will not be found, for despite the fact that he is a member of the band, Hi-Y, S.C.A., Monitors' Committee, Glee Club, and Quill and Scroll, Barry holds down a job in his spare time and manages to keep his scholastic average high. Voted most likely to succeed by the seniors, Barry Hounshell will make a place for himself in the future just as he has done here at CHS.

The fact that the faculty and senior class selected Jacquelyn Ann Kilby to receive the DAR good citizenship award proved that she was an outstanding citizen throughout her high school career. In leadership, she excelled as president of the Tri-Hi-Y, editor of the COLONNADE, news editor of the Pepergram, and secretary of the S.C.A. As pianist for both the Junior and Senior Glee clubs, Jackie gave unselfishly of her time and talent. Again, she served her school as a loyal and dependable member of the Dramatic Club, Monitors' Committee, and Junior Red Cross. Another evidence of Jackie's versatility was her ability to maintain a high scholastic average at the same time that she was participating in a variety of extra-curricular activities. A true Christian, Jackie upheld the ideals of the Tri-Hi-Y both in the school and in the community where she continues to exert an influence for right.

Miss Martha Warriner serves refreshments to May Grady, Mr. Hunter Pote, Mr. Floyd Binns, Elizabeth Hitt, and Elizabeth Carpenter.

Juniors Honor Seniors at Gala Prom

The juniors entertained the seniors at the annual Junior-Senior Prom held on May 18, 1951. The junior class, led by Estil Brown, president; Trewitt Harding, vice-president; Lora Hossley, secretary; and Robert Coates, treasurer, worked long and hard over plans for the "most looked-forward-to dance of the year."

Music was supplied by Connor Phillips and his "Cavaliers."

Coiner and Gilbert Reign Over Annual Cotillion

Constance Coiner and William Gilbert, chosen and crowned by Supt. Paul Hounshell as the best dancers, reigned as the King and Queen of Hearts over the Sweetheart Cotillion given jointly by the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs on February 16 in the high school gym. The gym was decorated with streamers of red and white crepe paper, a heart at one end, a rose arbor in the center of the floor, and card tables enclosing an oval space for dancing. Following the crowning of the king and queen, refreshments were served. The floorshow, in which Mr. Woody Powell acted as Master of Ceremonies, consisted of Mrs. Margaret Rosson's tap dancing and playing the clarinet, Mr. Les Walden's playing a trumpet solo, and Mr. Powell's singing "If."

Led by Ann Graves, president of the Tri-Hi-Y, and Edgar Sims, vice-president of the Hi-Y, the dancers formed a figure around the rose arbor. The figure, composed only of Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y members and their dates, was followed by a no-break dance. The Hi-Yers felt their hard work had not been in vain as the evident success of the dance proved.

Hi-Yers Play Host to District Conference

CHS played host to the annual District IV Hi-Y Convention of approximately 100 delegates from the various schools on October 14 and 15. The two-day conference featured discussion groups, speeches, and entertainment—all prepared by the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs of CHS.

Dr. Othell Hand, director of religious activities at the University of Richmond, delivered the inspirational address on the theme of the conference—"To create, maintain, and extend..."

The remainder of the morning was taken up by four discussion groups, led by four of Culpeper's outstanding citizens as follows: Mr. Floyd T. Binns, Mr. Herbert Hash, Rev. David Lewis, and Mr. Charles W. Weisiger, Jr.

In the evening a banquet was served in the cafeteria by the P-TA. At the close of the banquet, votes were cast for district officers for the coming year; and at a social held in the gym, results of the balloting were announced. The local group was honored by the selection of its Hi-Y president, Estil Brown, as president of the convention.

Sunday morning the delegates met for the installation of the new officers, and then the entire group attended the Culpeper Presbyterian Church.

Alice Clark Wins Basketball Crown

For the first time in its history CHS elected a basketball queen, Alice Clark. Nominees for the title were chosen by the boys' varsity basketball team, and the student body had its first chance to vote for them immediately after returning from the Christmas holidays. The voting was done at lunch time in the gymnasium where there were five jars, one for each of the girls. Votes were one cent each, and the containers bearing the contestants' names were covered so that the exact number of votes for each could not be seen.

At last the Falmouth game, at which the queen was to be crowned, approached. The voting drew to a close, and votes were tallied, with the results being kept secret. On February 9, between the jayvee and varsity games, the coronation took place. A throne of white, decorated in blue and gold, was rolled onto the basketball court, and the boys of the varsity team lined up on either side of it. Then Constance Coiner, Margaret Glenn, Ann Graves, and Mary Miller, who were the princesses, entered the gymnasium and took their places beside the boys. A trumpet fanfare, played by Jesse Yowell, announced the entrance of the 1950-51 Basketball Queen, Alice Clark. Crown bearer Paul McNeer presented the crown, and Robert Loy, captain of the varsity team, crowned Alice queen of the season. After being escorted to the places of honor by the members of the team, the queen and her court reigned over the CHS-Falmouth game which was won by the home team.

EMPLOYMENT and PROMOTION

Save time, save money, and begin a career earlier by attending STRAYER. An ideal success formula is—Strayer training plus Strayer Employment Service. Evidence that you are qualified: The B.C.S. or M.C.S. degree from Strayer College of Accountancy, or the approved Secretarial diploma from Strayer College of Secretarial Training.

Write for catalog or call in person for information, guidance, or registration.

Thanks!

The staff would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank the following people for their help without which the 1951 COLONNADE could not have been produced: Mr. D. M. Penny, Brown-Morrison Printing Co.; Mr. E. F. Coleman, Lynchburg Engraving Co.; Mr. LeRoy Oleson,

National School Studios; Miss Gertrude Lewis; Mr. Thomas Sweet; Mrs. William Houck and her typing classes and all the teachers who excused staff members for work on the annual. Again the staff says, "Many, many thanks for that splendid cooperation."

World Confronts Young Citizens As Year Ends . . .

So comes to a close another year of achievement as high school citizens. Underclassmen will return in the fall; seniors will join the ranks of those in a more mature world. It will be a troubled world into which they go—a world that needs to know the values of good citizenship, a world that needs to realize that consideration and cooperation pay. These seniors, now world citizens, will assume new duties and work for a peace that will bring justice to all.
